

Dear

I'm excited to let you know that I've decided to take a passion and hobby of mine and turn it into a business! I've loved papercrafting and cardmaking and have created a new business where I can help people learn to create their own handmade projects and classes to make them and take them home!

I'd love for you to attend one of my upcoming classes, and it would help me even more if you brought some friends or family with you. I'll give you AND your guest 5 free cards of your choice from my card rack. I'll attach my updated schedule with monthly classes. Be sure to RSVP by the due date so I can prepare the projects for you.

I hope you can join me for my kick off event!

Monday, November 25th

6:30-8:30

We'll be making a few projects, and I'll be showcasing some simple and easy projects for you to duplicate.

Bring a friend and you both get 5 free handmade cards!

RSVP by November 24th so I can prepare the projects for you! I know you'll love them!

I also will be holding in home card parties or you can host them at my studio. This would be the most help and the MOST fun! I'll provide you with a night of crafting fun for you and your friends, plus you can earn free product and cards.

I'm thankful for your support, and look forward to having you a part of my fun and crazy crafting world where we can take a break from reality and just create and have fun! I'll be texting you soon! If you beat me to it...I'll have an extra set of cards for you for FREE!

Stamped Blessings,
Ronda Wade
